Fall/Winter Lillie & Cohoe 2007 Hat Collection

NELSON, BC – The Fall/Winter 2007 Hat Collection has successfully met high expectations. Comprised of fourteen different groups, Lillie & Cohoe's collection features styling inspired by great design eras that become instant classics.

Designer Liz Cohoe has focused on warm and rich textures in the 'Estate Woolens' and the 'Boiled Wool' groups. The 'Woolens' group follows the trend in color and texture, which includes brown plaid, grey check and a charcoal muted stripe. The 'Boiled Wool' assortment punches up the style with its dark shades and luscious styles. For instance, the Manon style wears like a cloche, the Mercedes is a swirl Newscap and the Victor, a military look with a beautiful button that keeps the brim turned up on one side.

As popular as ever, the classics lines of 'Oxford Fleece', 'Polar Fleece', 'Novelty Velvet', 'Cashmere Deluxe', and 'Melton Classics' offer something for every woman who wants to put on some style in cold weather. Vintage looks are offered in 'Erte', 'Tweed', 'Botanicals, and 'Furs'.

Lillie & Cohoe (www.lillieandcohoe.com) is a millinery company, designing and manufacturing hats in Canada, known for outstanding design and excellent quality. Designer Liz Cohoe unites her appreciation for fabric with her technical proficiency to design sculptural hats that are inspired by traditional-shaped forms, yet have the ease and flexibility rendered by fine fabric. The hats are timeless and allow women to find and portray their authentic sense of self. Established in 1992, the Lillie & Cohoe collection is available at retail locations across Canada, the United States and Korea.
